

privacy policy

We are committed to protecting the privacy of our patients and maintaining the confidentiality of all personal and medical information.

We only collect personal and medical information necessary to provide effective and safe medical care. This information is stored securely in our secure systems and is only used for authorized medical purposes.

We do not share personal and medical information with third parties without the patient's written consent, except as required by law or government regulations.

We take appropriate security measures to protect personal and medical information from loss, misuse, unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration and destruction. In addition, we ensure that employees receive proper training on privacy and information security.

If a patient desires a copy of their medical information, a copy may be provided within a reasonable time after receiving the written request and payment therefor under our fee policy.
